

About Build Up

Build Up works to build the power of young people to shape where they live, and to change who can make decisions about London. We support young people to design and build public spaces, equipping young people with the tools and agency to have ownership over their neighbourhoods.

Our approach is unique: we bring together design, construction and youth work in a way that shifts power to young people who are excluded from decision-making. In doing so, they gain practical design and construction skills, learn to lead and drive change in their communities. The impact is transformative for young people, who gain concrete experience making decisions that affect them, and for communities, who benefit from genuinely inclusive spaces designed by and for local residents.

Head of Income Generation

We are seeking an experienced Head of Income Generation to lead our fundraising strategy and secure core, sustainable and diversified income alongside funds for projects identified by young people. This is a new role within our team, created to build our case for investment, evidence our impact, and harness the support of new audiences.

You'll shape fundraising priorities, identify and secure new opportunities, and cultivate lasting relationships with funders and partners. At the same time, you'll take ownership of the detail - writing high-quality bids, managing reporting deadlines, and ensuring income targets are met. You will be responsible for line-managing communications and evaluation consultants to support telling our story.

We are a small, agile organisation capable of delivering big change. Every senior role at Build Up carries responsibility and the freedom to innovate - and this role is no exception. Because our model is unique, we need someone who can translate it into clear, powerful narratives that resonate with a diverse range of funders and partners.

Who You Are

You will bring a strong track record in leading funding strategy and securing charitable investment, along with excellent grant writing skills. You'll have an eye for spotting opportunities, the strategic ability to secure them, and the enthusiasm to use your fundraising expertise to fund young people's ideas. Alongside your expertise in trusts and foundations, you will bring experience across a breadth of income streams and an eagerness to develop new ones.

To thrive in this role, you will be able to manage your time effectively, balancing big-picture strategy with the detail of day-to-day fundraising delivery. You'll be confident working independently, able to plan and deliver against targets, and skilled at adapting quickly to the needs of a fast-paced and growing organisation.

We encourage candidates to discuss the role before applying. Please contact Build Up's Director Huan Rimington (huan@buildup.org.uk) to arrange a suitable time.
