

Breaking Barriers

Meaningful employment for refugees

Chair of the Board of Trustees

Flexible location

Welcome from our CEO

Welcome.

Thank you for taking an interest in this opportunity. Breaking Barriers is looking to recruit a new Chair to lead the organisation in a non-executive capacity.

At Breaking Barriers, we welcome refugees into meaningful employment with one-to-one advice and guidance, education, and training. We currently provide support to refugees over the age of 18 years across Birmingham, Glasgow, Greater Manchester, Liverpool and London.

The organisation has grown from being an ambitious start-up to a fast growth and high-impact charity serving over a thousand people annually. But there is still so much more to do.

Following the founding CEO's departure this financial year, the board has welcomed a new CEO into the high-performing SLT. Whilst the organisation has plans to grow, we are aiming for the next financial year to be one of consolidating our USP and place in the sector and strengthening our foundations in preparation for a period of growth towards ambitious 2030 goals.

We have built our board mindfully – ensuring that we have a range of views, experiences, and backgrounds reflected in our governance decision making. We currently have 27% of trustees identified as having lived experience and we are keen to continue to build on this.

The successful candidate will join existing board members to support the CEO to lead the delivery of an ambitious multi-year strategy to accelerate progress towards the charity's mission.

Please note: the role of Chair is not paid, although travel & subsistence to attend board meetings will be covered. We recognise the ability to undertake unremunerated work is not possible for many. If you are interested in the role, but concerned about the terms, we would encourage you to get in touch as we will work hard to remove any obstacles we can to participation.

We're Breaking Barriers so every refugee can access meaningful employment and build a new life. Join us.

Additional Information

The Charity's Commitment to Board Members

- Dates and times of Board meetings, Sub-Committee meetings, Board Strategy Day, and the Annual Review will be confirmed at the last board meeting of the preceding year
- Board meeting / Sub-Committee agendas and papers will be distributed at least five working days in advance of meetings.

Legal Requirements of the Trustee Role

1. Responsibility for the proper administration of the Charity

Trustees must ensure assets and resources are only used for the purposes of the Charity, as set out in its' Objects. Trustees must also make sure the Charity acts lawfully by complying with charity law, company law, and other regulatory legislation such as employment law, environmental law, health and safety law etc. Trustees must ensure they check the eligibility of new board members to serve as trustees.

2. Ultimate responsibility for everything the Charity does

Breaking Barriers staff carry out the day-to-day management of the Charity. The Board of Trustees discharge their responsibility by setting policies and strategies, approving and monitoring performance and budgets and holding the staff to account. The Board also delegate the exercise of certain powers to sub-committees. The Articles and Scheme of Delegation set out the terms under which matters can be delegated to committees. Terms of Reference for committees are written down and updated regularly to make sure that both the Board and the committee are clear about what the committee may decide without referring back to the Board. The Board strives for complete clarity about what decisions are to be made only by the Board and what are delegated to staff.

3. Responsibility to act reasonably and prudently in all matters relating to the Charity

Trustees are expected to use a reasonable degree of care but are not expected to be experts in any particular field. They are expected however, to be aware of situations where they need to seek professional advice, and to seek it when appropriate. Seeking advice is not a luxury but a responsibility. In particular, Trustees must ensure that the Charity is solvent.

4. Responsibility for safeguarding the assets of the Charity

Trustees make sure that proper controls are in place to protect bank accounts and the handling of funds and to that other assets are properly cared for.

5. Responsibility to act collectively

Decisions and responsibilities are shared. The Board acts by majority, but all trustees share responsibility unless they make it plain that they disagree with a decision but are overruled. The Board does not accept "sleeping trustees" or regular absences from meetings of the Board.

6. Responsibility to act in the best interests of the Charity

All trustees have a common responsibility to further the objects of the Charity. Responsibility to avoid any conflict of interest between their personal interest and the interests of the Charity, or between their interests in another organisation and the interests of the Charity.

Conflicts of interest might occur, so there is a mechanism for trustees to declare that interest and rules for dealing with it.

What does our work mean to our clients?

I got to know about Breaking Barriers when I first got my status and I got a very nice case worker which helped me on how to build my CV, how to build my confidence. They taught me interview skills and also put me into workshops with other organisations that trainings me to be who I am today.

I think my caseworker is the most amazing person I know. Just to know there's somebody out there that's got your back. My support worker told me "Kemi, I got this job. I think it is going to be interesting for you". Which I applied and that's the job I am now. It's a charity that helps refugee worker into employment, and within three months that I got the job, I got promoted twice and all because of Breaking Barriers because even while I'm on the job, Breaking Barriers keep supporting me, telling me what to do and how to carry myself
