

Role profile: Fundraiser

- £28,000 - £32,000 per annum
- Remote/home working
- Part time considered

Are you an energetic fundraiser with a passion to raise money for a good cause? We're looking for someone with a can-do attitude and an eye for opportunities.

Who are we?

Deafblind UK supports people who have both sight and hearing loss. You'll be welcomed into our big family of clinical, operational and administrative staff who are all passionate about making life better for our members.

We are a forward thinking and inspirational charity that believes there are too many people living with deafblindness who are not getting the support they need. We are there for everyone who needs us, when they need us. We give information, advice and support to help people enjoy the things they love doing and we're a listening ear if times are tough.

With around half a million people in the UK experiencing deafblindness and rising, we have ambitious plans to develop five key areas: education, care and support, research, influencing and technology to meet a growing need and to reach even more people with our services.

What do we want you to do?

We're looking for a brilliant Fundraiser to grow our fundraising income and open up new opportunities. Focussing on individual donors, corporate, community and events, you will support the Fundraising Development Manager on all areas of fundraising, so there never be a dull moment!

What can we offer you?

Working for Deafblind UK is flexible and friendly. We support a healthy work-life balance and from the moment you join us, you will be fully supported by the wider team. We know how fast-moving the fundraising industry is and we encourage professional development and continuous learning.

We are happy to consider a reduced or flexible hours contract of a minimum of 30 hours per week on a pro rata salary.

This is a home-working role but we do have a number of services and meeting spaces in the Peterborough area. You will have regular opportunities to meet up with colleagues across the charity and will be meeting up with donors and supporters at times, so some travel will be required.

Who we're looking for:

Whether you already have some experience across a range of fundraising (community, corporates, events, individual donors for example) or perhaps you have excelled in one area and want to expand into new areas, you could be the right person to join our team.

There are some skills, experiences and ways of working which we feel are essential to thrive in the role:

- You've worked as a fundraiser and proved you can raise money.
- You know about best practice in fundraising and where to find advice on regulations.
- Building relationships comes as second nature to you.
- You are comfortable enough with figures to be able to manage budgets and work out ROI.
- Great at multi- tasking, prioritising, time management and project management.
- Interest, understanding or experience (whether personal, voluntary or professional) in the disability/vision/hearing environment would, of course, be an added advantage.

What next?

Interested? Then we'd love to talk to you!

If you'd like a quick chat to find out more, then please contact our partner, Valerie Morton to arrange an informal call - valerie@valeriemorton.co.uk.

If your mind is made up, then what are you waiting for! Please apply by sending your CV, and answers to these questions to valerie@valeriemorton.co.uk.

1. Describe the piece of fundraising you are most proud of, and what was your personal contribution to making it successful.
2. What support do you feel you would need to help appreciate the values and work of Deafblind UK?
3. Tell us about something you have done as a fundraiser that shows your multi-tasking/time management skills at their best.

Please attach your answers in a separate document in addition to your CV – no covering letters please, your answers should be enough to show why we should take your application forward.

The closing date is 9am on Monday 18th March but we will be carrying out assessments on a rolling basis. If we feel we would like to know more about your potential to fill this role, we will be in touch.

We can't wait to hear from you,

Good luck!
