

Design and Delivery Lead Curriculum

Job pack

Our mission

Frontline is a charity with a mission to make life better for children at risk of harm, by improving the services that support them. Hundreds of thousands of children experience or are at risk from abuse and neglect at home, sexual and criminal exploitation outside the home, and other harms. For these children, the right support and protection can make all the difference.

That's why we help social workers and other children's services to develop excellent practice and leadership. And why we are cultivating innovative new approaches to child protection and driving positive systems change for children.

Job description

Frontline is entering an exciting period of growth and development as we continue to expand our programme portfolio and strengthen the support we provide to social workers and leaders throughout their careers. We deliver a range of programmes and services that support participants at different stages of the social work career pathway, from those entering the profession through to experienced leaders. As our organisation grows, we are continuing to invest in the people, systems and capabilities needed to support high-quality delivery across our portfolio.

As we move through this period of growth and change, some aspects of the role, including its job title, reporting line and directorate, may be subject to change as our future organisational structure takes shape.

The Design and Delivery Lead plays a key role in the development, delivery and continuous improvement of Frontline's social work training programmes. The postholder will design high-quality learning materials and assessments, deliver engaging and evidence-informed training , contribute to participant assessment and feedback, and support quality assurance processes across the programme portfolio.

The postholder will work collaboratively with colleagues and external stakeholders to ensure learning content remains current, relevant and aligned to professional standards and workforce needs.

Key responsibilities

Curriculum Design and Development

- Design, develop and maintain high-quality learning materials, resources and activities across Frontline's portfolio of social work training programmes.
- Contribute to curriculum development and enhancement, ensuring content is engaging, evidence-informed and aligned with relevant professional standards and frameworks.
- Develop learning activities that promote critical reflection, application to practice and professional development.
- Review and update programme content in response to feedback, research, policy developments and emerging best practice.
- Ensure learning materials are inclusive, accessible and support a positive participant experience.

Job description

Teaching and Learning

- Deliver high-quality teaching and facilitation across the training programmes using a range of learning methodologies.
- Create engaging learning environments that promote participation, reflection and application to practice.
- Integrate research, theory and contemporary social work practice into teaching and learning activities.
- Support participants' professional learning and development through effective facilitation and feedback.
- Contribute to the ongoing development of teaching approaches and learning resources.

Assessment and Participant Learning

- Design and develop formative and summative assessments aligned to programme learning outcomes and professional standards.
- Undertake assessment, marking and moderation activities in line with assessment regulations and quality standards.
- Provide high-quality feedback that supports participant learning, development and achievement.
- Support participants in understanding assessment requirements and expectations.
- Contribute to assessment review and improvement activities to ensure validity, reliability and fairness.

Quality Assurance and Enhancement

- Contribute to quality assurance processes across programme design, delivery and assessment.
- Participate in moderation, standardisation and review activities to ensure consistency and quality.
- Use participant feedback, assessment outcomes and evaluation data to inform continuous improvement.
- Support compliance with internal quality assurance requirements and external professional standards.
- Contribute to programme review and enhancement activities.

Partnerships and Stakeholder Engagement

- Work collaboratively with internal teams and external stakeholders to support the effective design and delivery of programmes.
- Engage with practitioners, subject matter experts and partners to ensure programme content remains current and practice-informed.
- Contribute to the sharing of good practice across our portfolio.

Practice Excellence and Continuing Professional Development

- Maintain current knowledge of social work practice, professional standards, policy developments and learning design approaches.
- Engage in continuous professional development and relevant to social work education and workforce development.

Our culture of freedom and responsibility

Freedom and responsibility is how we stay true to our mission: trusting people to use their judgement, take ownership and do what's right for children. It's what keeps Frontline creative, caring and courageous.

Freedom and responsibility has four pillars:

1. Putting children first
2. Making equality, diversity and inclusion everyone's business
3. Working as one team
4. Making decisions based on professional judgement and evidence
