About the Schools Consent Project

The Schools Consent Project is a charity that sends lawyers into schools to teach 11–18-year-olds about consent and key sexual offences. Education is prevention: by introducing consent-literacy in classrooms, young people grow up making more informed, ethical decisions and are less likely to experience – or perpetrate – sexual violence in later life.

As we continue to scale, we are seeking an ambitious and proactive Fundraising & Partnerships Manager to help secure the resources and relationships that will enable us to reach more young people across the UK.
