Role Description: Fundraising Engagement and Support Volunteer

Are you passionate about being a global citizen? Are you looking for a role that really makes a difference? Well, how about joining a global organisation helping to empower women and men to end their own hunger and poverty? If this sounds exciting, we might have the perfect role just for you!

Role: Fundraising Engagement and Support Volunteer

Reports to: the Chief Executive

Location: Remote

Hours: 1 day a week, flexible

Availability: 6 months

About The Hunger Project:

We are a global charity committed to the sustainable end of world hunger. Our mission is to end hunger and poverty by pioneering sustainable, grassroots, women-centred strategies and advocating for their widespread adoption in countries throughout the world.

In 2023, we reached 12.4 million people in Africa, South Asia and Latin America. We believe people living in hunger are themselves the key to ending hunger. In partnership, we work with community members to realize their vision, commitment and leadership so they can feed themselves and their families, and end hunger for good in their communities.

We work to solve the root causes of hunger by supporting the communities experiencing them. As we adapt to meet local challenges and opportunities wherever we work, our programmes have a wide range of objectives, such as, ending child marriage, empowering women leaders, increasing girls in education, engaging local governments, entrepreneurship and employability, climate resilient farming and maternal health.

Our team is a mighty force of changemakers living around the world, including in our partner countries USA, Australia, New Zealand, Canada and across Europe. Here in the UK, we are a small but awesome team, with big ambitions. Together we have an entrepreneurial attitude and a hunger to grow and scale our impact significantly over the next five years.

About You:

The successful candidate will be joining a small UK-based team with big ambitions, so you'll need to be comfortable with change and working within a fast-paced, agile organisation. You will work collaboratively with our UK team and global colleagues, to radically scale up our UK activities. As such, you will be pro-active, result driven and have a can-do attitude. This is a multi-faceted role that has huge potential for growth and development. We can also tailor the role to weight it more towards your key strengths. Most importantly, you'll be committed to the sustainable end of hunger. If this sounds like you, then read on!

Key Responsibilities Covered:

- To research potential trusts and companies and explore funding opportunities.
- To assist in daily fundraising tasks and workload.
- To assist in the design of The Hunger Project website and newsletters.
- To assist in the overhaul and design of multiple fundraising platforms.
- Contacting fundraising supporters and donors and keeping them up-to-date with campaigns and newsletters and support with events.
- Developing supporter journeys through acquisition, welcome, retention and re-engagement.
- Developing fundraising, stewardship and volunteering from individuals and businesses.
- To assist in the writing and submission of funding bids.
- To use donation platforms to gain support from donors and investors.

The Hunger Project is right for you if:

- You have a deep and genuine desire to make the world a better place and are onboard with The Hunger Project's vision for a world free from hunger and poverty by 2030.
- You're genuinely interested in international development and gender equity.
- You have a hunger to learn, grow and embrace new ideas, cultures and ways of thinking.
- You have great written and spoken communication skills and are good with people.
- You're persistent, will tackle obstacles with aplomb, approaching problem-solving with a proactive approach.
- You enjoy being part of a fast-paced start-up style environment.

This Role can Offer You:

- Great addition to your CV and LinkedIn.
- Chance to make a difference and enhance your own fundraising skills and knowledge.
- Broader insight into how a global charity operates and communicates with their audience.
