ABOUT PRATHAM

Pratham's vision is to see every child in school, learning well. Since our inception in 1995, Pratham has focused on scalable, evidence-based solutions to nurture high-quality learning, working directly in communities as well as through government partnerships.

Pratham works in 23 states and union territories to help change over 5.6 million children and young people's lives per year by empowering them with education.

- + Transforming individuals
- + Transforming communities
- + Transforming systems

Pratham has been widely recognised for our innovation and impact through various awards, including The Kravis Prize in Leadership, the WISE Education Prize, the 2021 Yidan Prize for Education Development awarded to Pratham's CEO, Dr. Rukmini Banerji, and the Indira Gandhi Prize for Peace, Disarmament and Education.

Our programmes focus on:

CHILDREN AND LEARNING: we engage children ages 3-14 in order to improve their foundational reading, writing, and maths skills. Last year, we supported over 500,000 children across 20,000 communities through direct engagement.

YOUTH AND TRAINING: we promote economic self-sufficiency for young adults through vocational training and job placement. In 2022-23, we trained more than 50,000 young people with employable skills, in which there was an 85% job placement rate.

GIRLS AND WOMEN: we assist women and girls who have previously dropped out of school to complete their secondary school education and earn their 10th Standard diploma with our Second Chance Programme. In the 2022-23 academic year, over 3,700 girls and women were enrolled in Second Chance.

Lending your support through our Gala helps us reach more children and young people, positively transforming their lives forever.
