Flexibility & opportunity

We think Heard is quite a special place to work (discover more below). We aim to offer as much flexibility as we're able to for the person in this role, so we don't miss out on talented people who have other commitments (whether personal or professional), and/or for whom a London office environment is less accessible. This is a great opportunity to work in a friendly, caring, supportive team, in ways that can offer you the flexibility you might need to do the job well.

Flexibility on your location: We are open to applications from anywhere in the UK. Ideally, we'd like remote team-members to come into the office a couple of times each quarter, or as needed for attending trainings and meetings. This can be discussed. You are also welcome to work from our office in Bethnal Green, London. Most of our team work hybrid, coming into the office at least two days a week, and some are remote.

Flexibility on your hours: We're open to 0.6/0.7/0.8 full-time equivalent (21/24.5/28 hours per week excluding lunch break), Mon-Fri. We'd expect you to work most/all of your hours during the daytime to ensure enough crossover with team-members. We can be flexible about exact timings (e.g. to allow for childcare pick-ups).

About Heard

Heard is a multi-award-winning small charity, working with people, the media and other organisations to inspire content and communication that changes hearts and minds. We've spent 15 years constantly developing the best approaches.

Every year, as a result of our work, tens of millions of people hear stories about issues such as poverty, climate change, migration, domestic abuse, sexual violence, transgender experiences and children's palliative care.

We're shifting public understanding of these issues. We scale our impact by collaborating with others. Together, we inspire people to take action.

- Here's an overview of what we do.
- Take a look at our most recent annual report and accounts.
- We currently run four programmes: Climate Stories That Work (climate action) | All About Trans (transgender experiences) | Media Movers (migration) | Children's Palliative Care

Job brief

We're looking for someone who can bring management accountancy skills to this role, with experience within the charity sector. We'd like you to help us manage our budgets and forecasting, ensure we have good systems in place to support our programme leads with their budgets, and ensure we always feel on top of our financial health and management accounts.

You'll be supported by our excellent operations and finance coordinator, Jay, and you have the option of additional support from a part-time bookkeeper (we can discuss this). You will work closely with our CEO and executive team, as well as our programme leads on their budgets. You'll report in to the CEO.

Key responsibilities

Processes & systems:

- Oversight of our financial processes and systems (mostly day-to-day managed by our operations & finance coordinator and/or bookkeeper)
- Ownership of our financial controls & reconciliations
- Payment of suppliers, staff and volunteer expenses and remittance notifications.
- Maintain financial records and filing systems, ensuring they are ready for annual audit

- Ensure robust systems in place for managing cashflow
 - Review of financial procedures to ensure they are suitable to provide financial control and security, and that they are being followed at all times

Management accounting tasks and team support:

- In hand with the CEO, ownership of the management accounts, including preparing monthly management accounts
- Organisational budgeting/forecasting
- Identifying financial gaps and risks in good time, so the CEO and executive team can explore resourcing options and fundraising needs
- Supporting budget holders with finance info for reports to funders
- Identifying where our team (especially budget holders) may have gaps in financial knowledge and providing/identifying training to help us become more financially literate across the organisation
- Help set / monitor financial KPIs

Governance and managing risk:

- Supporting the board with financial reports on at least a quarterly basis
- Leading the board's finance subcommittee to manage risks and opportunities, including producing summary reports each quarter
- Keeping the board abreast of financial risks and, in hand with the CEO, proposing solutions for how we might counter them
- Overseeing our statutory requirements - e.g. liaising with supplier to complete statutory accounts and financial audit, ensuring compliance with SORP
- Advising the board on our approach to reserves and investment, including monitoring reserves
- Advising the board on the financial impact of significant strategic and operational decisions (e.g. costing out a cost-of-living increase across all salaries, costing out the introduction of a new policy, highlighting financial risks of strategic decisions)
- Monitor if/when we need to become VAT-registered (we are already tracking this)

Skills and requirements

Essential:

- Part qualified CIMA / ACCA / ACA and/or AAT
- Strong management accounts and core accountancy experience
- Experience of managing financial systems
- Experience of working on finance within a UK charity and/or in-depth understanding of the nuances of charity finance (e.g. through a charity treasurer role or certification)
- You will need sufficient charity-specific knowledge to liaise effectively with the financial accounting function and suppliers

- Experience of producing detailed departmental and consolidated management accounts, including analysis and commentary
- Enjoys working with others and “demystifying” finance. Explainer: budgets can sometimes feel overwhelming and a bit scary to non-financial people, and we hope that you can guide our team to feel more confident and comfortable in their financial literacy
- Can communicate clearly and respectfully with the team about what’s needed from them, to maintain good financial health across the organisation
- Can communicate comfortably and clearly with the executive team and board, especially to highlight any financial risks, as well as opportunities to improve our financial health (they are all very friendly!)

Desirable:

- Experience of advising a senior management / executive team
- Familiarity with SORP
- Experience of using QuickBooks (we are open to a move to a different system if you saw fit)
- Experience of using Salesforce
- Experience of helping a charity become VAT registered or understanding of how this process might happen
- Experience of a charity that generates part or most of its income from trusts and foundations
- Experience of a charity that has sought to increase its income from trading/sales/consultancy and/or otherwise diversify its income streams
- Experience of advising a charity board

What's in it for you? Would you be a good fit for team Heard?

We're a team made up of women and non-binary people from different backgrounds, and we welcome all. We have brave conversations around racism, islamophobia and transphobia. Our determination, creativity and strategic communications expertise makes us well positioned to have these conversations in a thoughtful way. We know diverse teams and communities make us stronger, and we won't stand for hateful and divisive rhetoric. As part of this role, you'll need to be enthused about - and sensitive to - working with trans and non-binary people, people from migration backgrounds, people experiencing poverty and others experiencing marginalisation and oppression.

How to apply

The application deadline is 9am, Friday 24th January 2025.

To apply, please complete this application form.

Here's more info about the form and application process:

- You will need a Google account or Gmail to access the form. Here's how to set up a Google account - this should only take a couple of minutes.
- Email info@heard.org.uk if the form or any part of the application process is not accessible to you (or if for any reason you are unable to set up a Google account).
- The form will ask you to upload your CV, and ask you three application questions. We do not ask you to write a cover letter - just to answer these questions.
- These are the three application questions (each with a 1,000-character limit, which is roughly 150 - 300 words):
 - Why do you think you'd enjoy working at Heard?
 - What do you think a small charity's executive team should be looking at (in finance terms), to feel on top of our financial health?
 - Give an example of when you've supported a team/team-member to better understand a budget or other key financial document. What did you do to support their understanding?
- We will review and score your application questions anonymously to counter unconscious bias when we assess applications.
- In the form, we'll also ask about any adjustments or support you may need to ensure the recruitment process feels inclusive to you.

Here's what will happen after you submit your application:

- If your application is taken forwards to the next stage, we will hold first interviews online on Tues 4th Feb (with reasonable flexibility if you cannot make this date).
- From these interviews and if needed, we may take forward a small number of candidates to second round interviews, likely on Wednesday 12th Feb (with reasonable flexibility if you cannot make this date). These can be in London or online.
- As part of the process, we will ask shortlisted candidates to undertake a technical task.
- If you are unavailable for the interview dates, we will do our best to accommodate you.
- We try our best to make our interviews friendly and welcoming. We will let you know the type of questions we'll ask in advance, and who you'll be meeting with, to help you feel comfortable and prepared. We will do whatever we can to ensure you feel confident and welcome in the space.
- We will try to let you know as soon as possible whether or not you have been invited to interview. If you are invited to interview, we will always aim to provide some feedback.

We look forward to hearing from you - best of luck!
