

Job description

Energy Caseworker within the WHAM (Warmer Homes Advice & Money) project

Main purpose

The purpose of the role of the Energy Caseworker (WHAM) is to provide in-depth advice and support on energy and related topics to WHAM clients. Experience of casework is preferable (although not essential) with a specific interest in fuel poverty.

Specific responsibilities

- To provide energy advice to clients by phone and email.
- To provide information to help clients access appropriate support.
- Engage with households who need help with their energy issues.
- To provide in-depth casework support to clients.
- To travel across Bristol, B&NES and North Somerset to give advice to people in their own homes, coordinate partner activity, deliver events, talks and presentations.
- To communicate effectively with energy suppliers on behalf of the client, including investigating billing and metering issues, negotiating repayment plans and raising complaints.
- To provide administrative support to the delivery of projects.
- To maintain accurate and detailed records of all interactions with clients.
- To remain vigilant for any safeguarding concerns during interactions with clients, including signs of abuse, neglect, or exploitation. Report all concerns promptly to the designated Safeguarding Officer in accordance with CSE's safeguarding policy and procedures. Ensure appropriate follow-up actions are taken and documented to maintain client safety and wellbeing.
- Reduce the financial hardship and stress of households in fuel poverty by supporting their access to lower tariffs, grants for heating and insulation improvements and income maximisation. This is also to identify energy improvements that can be made to the home and refer to installers.
- Improve the wellbeing and safeguarding of households in fuel poverty whose health conditions are exacerbated by living in a cold home. Offer emotional support to vulnerable and distressed clients, while maintaining clear boundaries.

- To communicate with householders clearly, confidently and persuasively using appropriate language and style for target audience. Being able to adjust the communication style depending on the needs of clients. Listening carefully, responding empathically, building rapport and trust, checking for understanding, empowering and motivating.
- Giving advice to people in their own homes and at events, community and neutral venues.
- To work alongside and support CSE volunteers.
- To work closely with the WHAM partners to offer support to the clients.
- To adhere to CSE's data recording protocols, processes and procedures and to always maintain appropriate client confidentiality.
- To use resources (including your time) efficiently and effectively.
- To keep up to date with information required for role, seek opportunities to develop relevant skills and capabilities and share knowledge readily with others to support their development and work delivery.
- To plan and prioritise your workload to achieve high standards, meet agreed deadlines, adjusting readily to suit changing circumstances.

Working relationships and contacts

- The post holder will be managed by a designated Household Energy Services (HES) Project Manager/Officer. The postholder will receive support from a casework mentor and a supervisor assigned to them.
- The postholder will have personal contact with clients and will follow established procedures and processes for obtaining essential information to signpost to appropriate services or support organisations.
- The postholder will work closely with other third-sector organisations, local councils and health and social care organisations.
- The postholder will work closely with immediate colleagues in the HES team and will develop and maintain effective communication and working relationships with colleagues and volunteers across CSE.
- The postholder may work with challenging clients. The postholder may experience clients who are in emotional distress, angry or who express suicidal thoughts. Training and ongoing support will be provided.
- The postholder will adhere to the defined boundaries of support provided by HES and be clear with clients about what they can expect throughout the casework process.

- Any ad hoc duties related to this role.

The responsibilities of this post and reporting structure will be periodically reviewed.
