About NHS Providers

NHS Providers is the membership organisation for the NHS hospital, mental health, community, and ambulance services that treat patients and service users in the NHS. We help those NHS foundation trusts and trusts to deliver high-quality, patient-focused care by enabling them to learn from each other, acting as their public voice and helping shape the system in which they operate.

NHS Providers has all trusts in England in voluntary membership, collectively accounting for £124bn of annual expenditure and employing 1.5 million people.

As the single voice for NHS providers, we are recognised for our effective lobbying and influence, as a promoter of shared learning, and as a provider of exceptional support and development to our members. We are the 'go to' organisation for comment and debate on the issues facing public providers of NHS services. We have a particularly important role to support our members in a changing NHS landscape, as the focus increasingly shifts to working in integrated local health and care systems.

We are a busy, high performing team of around 100 staff, based in central London. In a recent survey, over 90% of staff felt 'very satisfied' or 'fairly satisfied' with their job.

Our values are at the centre of who we are, what we do, and how we behave, which are:

Our Development and Engagement Directorate

Our development and engagement directorate leads on our strategic priority to support trusts and their local system partners to drive improvement and innovation in an environment of unprecedented pressure.

Drawing on our trusted relationship with our members, we provide peer learning and training and development opportunities designed to help NHS leaders step back, learn from good practice both within the sector and beyond, and take away practical insights to apply.

Our offer is delivered both virtually and face to face. It includes conferences, whole board development, training courses, webinars, peer learning forums, action learning sets and masterclasses, alongside a range of publications from how-to guides and case study briefings to blogs, videos, and podcasts.

Our approach is built on inhouse expertise and a growing range of strategic partnerships which enable us to develop and grow our offer. This includes highly valued relationships with a group of commercial partners, with our programme funders, and with partner organisations across the health and care sector who contribute to our programme content.

Our work is underpinned by extensive member engagement, with all trusts currently accessing at least one of our programmes every year. Ongoing feedback and member insight is critical not just in evaluating and continuously improving our offer. It also powers our ongoing national influencing on the policy changes required to enable members to tackle health inequalities, support their staff and deliver the best possible care for patients and service users.
