About SafeLives

We are SafeLives, the UK-wide charity dedicated to ending domestic abuse, for everyone and for good.

Last year alone, nearly 25,000 professionals working on the frontline received our training. Over 79,000 adults at risk of serious harm or murder and more than 99,000 children received support through dedicated multi-agency support designed by us and delivered with partners. In the last seven years, almost 5,000 perpetrators have been challenged and supported to change by interventions we created with partners, making nearly 15,000 adult and child victims of their abuse safer.

Together we can end domestic abuse. Forever. For everyone.

Key purpose of the role

SafeLives has an unparalleled track record of using evidence and research to effect national change; with research and analysis being fundamental to helping SafeLives achieve its strategy. This information is used to set our policy messages, define our strategy, design our services and evidences the impact of the work we have done.

In April 2021 the Domestic Abuse Act received Royal Assent. The Act introduces a new civil Domestic Abuse Protection Notice (DAPN) to provide immediate protection following a domestic abuse incident, and a new civil Domestic Abuse Protection Order (DAPO) to provide flexible, longer-term protection for victims. DAPOs can impose both prohibitions and positive requirements on perpetrators. Positive requirements can be in the form of interventions aimed at reducing and managing risk, meeting the needs of an individual (for the factors that are not the causation of abuse but impact on risk e.g. mental ill health, substance misuse) and behaviour change interventions.

The Drive Partnership have been commissioned by the Home Office to design a triage model that will assess individuals for the suitability of these interventions, this triage model will be rolled out in the pilot sites which are going live in May 2024 and will be tested and evaluated in order to prepare for national roll out in 2026.

The Research Analyst will be responsible for working with and supporting the Senior Research Analyst and Research Managers to develop and deliver rigorous and sector leading data, analysis and recommendations across our work alongside the Drive partnership.

This role is an exciting opportunity to help transform the response to domestic abuse by ensuring the sector is evidence led. SafeLives holds the largest datasets on victims and perpetrators of domestic abuse nationally which you will use to inform our ambitious policy and research agenda. Working alongside our practice experts, survivors of abuse, and our expert research team, you will help to answer important questions about what works in ending domestic abuse.

We need an enthusiastic, innovative and capable individual with the excellent technical ability to keep our unique sector leading evidence base relevant and informative to all our users; local service providers, commissioners and national government. The evidence you produce will inform and influence national policy makers, funders and stakeholders to improve the response for families living with domestic abuse.

The role may require some flexibility to support the work of the Research Evaluation and Analysis (REA) team across the different research programs which include:

- National data (Insights, Marac, Drive and Mash data). Our national datasets bring together evidence of the current response to domestic abuse. Insights is our pioneering outcome measurement service which is embedded in front line domestic abuse services and used by practitioners, funders and policy makers to magnify their impact on the lives of adults, children and young people and victims of sexual violence. Our unique Marac data monitors the performance of all 290 Maracs across the country adding to the understanding of the response to high risk domestic abuse; informing local and national policy and practice
- Contributing to SafeLives policy, practice and research projects including Spotlights which focuses on a different theme in the domestic abuse sector every quarter.
- Evaluations of specialist domestic violence services carried out on a consultancy basis

Responsibilities

- Support the Drive Partnership to gather data from various frontline services and organisations, as well as from all family members affected by domestic abuse including but not exclusively children, adult victims and perpetrators, assisting with the design of data tools, delivering training and contributing to the development of training and analysis materials.
- Conduct analysis of data collected using appropriate and tested methods to produce accurate and timely results, and testing interpretation with practice experts within and external to SafeLives.
- Support the interpretation and dissemination of messages from SafeLives research data, including writing and contributing to reports and papers as required, drawing out clear implications from the data for policy and practice, and presenting findings back to front-line practitioners, commissioners and policy-makers.
- To liaise with external stakeholders and other external contacts in order to develop positive working relationships and respond to queries as appropriate.
- Enter data onto various databases with consistency and accuracy.
- Provide data and analysis support for the priority development areas of work/systemic gaps, e.g. perpetrator and victim voice strategy; responding effectively to Black, Asian and racially minoritised groups; responding effectively to LGBT+ groups
- Be a confident communicator, with the ability to convey complex messages in a way that nonexpert audiences can understand and engage with, and deliver clear and coherent reports and presentations for internal and external stakeholders.

- Be responsible for ensuring the completeness, accuracy, robustness and timely production of all data and narrative reports, and other research and policy outputs.
- Day to day management of SafeLives' datasets, including answering queries from and providing support to practitioners and internal teams, management of online data collection tools and oversight of the accuracy and integrity of the dataset.
- Support the Senior Research Analyst and Research Manager to develop cross data set working and awareness with other members of the REA team.
- Work closely with the internal teams to ensure data analysis and outcomes are linked to best practice recommendations (which are fed in to the reports) and ensure all reports, messages and outputs are aligned with SafeLives practice messages and best practice.
- Contribute to analysis and drafting of policy, practice and research briefings and other communications, drawing on SafeLives' national and programme datasets to influence the public policy agenda and standards of good practice.
- Use knowledge of quantitative and qualitative methodologies to contribute to project design and the development of research tools such as new forms, questionnaires, focus groups and online surveys.
- Support the scoping, design and development of new data and analysis projects to support SafeLives' new strategy and future programmes.
- Disseminate research and evaluation findings to internal and external partners using a range of appropriate formats and communication tools.
- Keep up-to-date with research literature relevant to projects and relevant new developments in research methodology.
- To ensure that any data collected, analysed and or shared whilst performing these duties is handled in line with SafeLives Data protection, data storage and collection policy and protocols.
- To engage in a constructive and effective way with all survivors of abuse, through calls to the office, Pioneer interaction, colleagues and any other interaction we have in our day to day work
- Undertake any other duties as may reasonably be required
