4. How is data collected?

Ygam may collect this information in a variety of ways. For example, data might be collected directly from you through application forms, CVs, onboarding forms or you might send us copies of documents such as your passport, for example, or we might collect it during interviews or assessments.

In some cases, we may collect personal data about you from third parties, such as references supplied by former employers and information from employment background check providers.

In some cases, personal data will be generated about you by our systems, such as when you are assigned an ID on our Payroll and HR management system.

Data will be stored in a range of different places, including in your personnel file, in our Payroll and HR management system, and in other IT systems (including the Ygam email system).

We do not make decisions based solely on automated processing, including profiling.

5. Lawful bases for processing

To store and process personal data, Ygam relies on four lawful bases:

- where you have given consent – UK GDPR, Art. 6 (1) (a)
- for the performance of a contract with you or to take steps at your request before entering into a contract – UK GDPR, Art 6 (1) (b)
- to comply with our legal and regulatory obligations – UK GDPR, Art 6 (1) (c)
- for our legitimate interests or those of a third party – UK GDPR, Art. 6 (1) (f)

The application of a specific lawful basis to a specific processing activity is set out in table 1 above.

Where Ygam is required to have a condition for processing special category data under Article 9 of the UK GDPR, that condition will be Article 92b – Employment and social security and social protection law.

6. Change of purpose

Ygam will only use your personal information for the purposes for which we collected it, unless we reasonably consider that we need to use it for another reason and that reason is compatible with the original purpose. If we need to use your personal information for an unrelated purpose, we will notify you and we will explain the legal basis which allows us to do so. We will also conduct any necessary risk assessments such as DPIAs.

We may process your personal information without your knowledge or consent, in compliance with the above rules, where this is required or permitted by law.

7. Who has access to data?

Your information may be shared internally, including the People Team and wider Business Services Team (e.g. Finance, Quality Assurance), if access to the data is necessary for performance of their roles and where required by law. We share your data with third parties to obtain pre-employment references from other employers and to obtain employment background checks from third-party providers

We also routinely share personal data with:

- our Payroll software provider
- our provider of accounting software, Xero
- our HR software provider, Breathe HR
- third parties we use to help enable our organisation to run effectively, e.g. software providers, IT support providers, delivery companies
- other third parties we use to help us run the charity, e.g. consultants or website hosts
- our insurers and brokers
- our funders and delivery partners
- your referees when we request a reference from them or discuss your application with them
- our trustees
- third parties that enable us to provide our benefits, recognition and rewards e.g. gift providers, restaurants, hospitality providers
- our pension provider
- our health insurance provider
- our funders
- our bank

We only allow those organisations to handle your personal data if we are satisfied that they take appropriate measures to protect your personal data. We also impose contractual obligations on them to ensure they can only use your personal data to provide services to us and to you.

We or the third parties mentioned above occasionally also share personal data with:

- our and their external auditors, e.g. in relation to the audit of our or their accounts, in which case the recipient of the information will be bound by confidentiality obligations;
- our and their professional advisors (such as lawyers and other advisors), in which case the recipient of the information will be bound by confidentiality obligations; or
- law enforcement agencies, courts, tribunals and regulatory bodies to comply with our legal and regulatory obligations.

We do not allow our third-party service processors to use your personal data for their own purposes. We only permit them to process your personal data for specified purposes and in accordance with our instructions.

8. Transferring your personal data out of the UK and EEA

Countries outside the EEA and the UK have differing data protection laws, some of which may provide lower levels of protection of privacy.

We generally do not transfer your personal data to countries outside of the UK or EEA but sometimes it is necessary for us to do so. In those cases, we will comply with applicable UK and EEA laws designed to ensure the privacy of your personal data.

As we are based in the UK, we will also transfer your personal data from the EEA to the UK.

Under data protection laws, we can only transfer your personal data to a country outside the UK/EEA where:

- in the case of transfers subject to UK data protection law, the UK government has decided the particular country ensures an adequate level of protection of personal data (known as an 'adequacy regulation') further to Article 45 of the UK GDPR;
- in the case of transfers subject to EEA data protection laws, the European Commission has decided that the particular country ensures an adequate level of protection of personal data (known as an 'adequacy decision') further to Article 45 of the EU GDPR;
- there are appropriate safeguards in place, together with enforceable rights and effective legal remedies for you; or
- a specific exception applies under relevant data protection law.

Where we transfer your personal data outside the UK, we do so on the basis of an adequacy regulation or (where this is not available) legally-approved standard data protection clauses recognised or issued further to Article 46(2) of the UK GDPR. In the event we cannot or choose not to continue to rely on either of those mechanisms at any time, we will not transfer your personal data outside the UK unless we can do so on the basis of an alternative mechanism or exception provided by UK data protection law and reflected in an update to this policy.

Where we transfer your personal data outside the EEA, we do so on the basis of an adequacy decision or (where this is not available) legally-approved standard data protection clauses issued further to Article 46(2) of the EU GDPR. In the event we cannot or choose not to continue to rely on either of those mechanisms at any time we will not transfer your personal data outside the EEA unless we can do so on the basis of an alternative mechanism or exception provided by applicable data protection law and reflected in an update to this policy.

9. How we store your personal data

Your personal data is securely stored.

We keep most of your data for 6 years after your last day of employment with us. The exceptions are:

- DBS data, which we keep for 3 years from the date of issue

- salary and expense payment data, which we keep for 6 years from the end of the financial year in which it was paid
- data for unsuccessful applicants which we keep for 1 year after the unsuccessful application.

At the end of the relevant retention period, we securely destroy the data and do not use it for any other purposes.

10. Your rights

Under the UK GDPR, you have rights including:

- your right of access – You have the right to ask us for copies of your personal information.
- your right to rectification – You have the right to ask us to rectify personal information you think is inaccurate. You also have the right to ask us to complete information you think is incomplete.
- your right to erasure – You have the right to ask us to erase your personal information in certain circumstances.
- your right to restriction of processing – You have the right to ask us to restrict the processing of your personal information in certain circumstances.
- your right to object to processing – You have the right to object to the processing of your personal information in certain circumstances.
- your right to data portability – You have the right to ask that we transfer the personal information you gave us to another organisation, or to you, in certain circumstances.
- the right to withdraw consents – If you have provided us with a consent to use your personal data you have a right to withdraw that consent easily at any time. You may withdraw consents by emailing dataprotection@ygam.org. Withdrawing a consent will not affect the lawfulness of our use of your personal data in reliance on that consent before it was withdrawn.

You are not required to pay any charge for exercising your rights. If you make a request, we have one month to respond to you.

You may exercise any of your rights in relation to your personal data by writing to the Director of Information System & QA at dataprotection@ygam.org.

11. Contacting us or complaints

You may exercise any of your rights in relation to your personal data by contacting the Director of Information Systems & QA at dataprotection@ygam.org.

You can also complain to a supervisory authority if you are unhappy with how we have used your data. In the UK, the supervisory authority is the Information Commissioners Office (ICO). Their details are as follows:
