

Freelance Progression Coach - Making Strides Programme

Job information pack

About ThinkForward

ThinkForward exists to empower young people to create better and brighter futures. We want them to be able to identify, realise and shape their aspirations and be ready to make a successful transition into work.

Young people experiencing barriers such as challenging relationships, living in low-income households, or growing up in areas with a lack of access to opportunities can be confronted with hurdles. Without the right support these barriers can lead to high risks of unemployment and long-term effects on career and life chances.

There are more than 800,000 16-24-year-olds in the UK who are not at school or college, or don't have a job or training place. Our ambition is to prevent young people becoming one of these statistics.

In 2025 we will be supporting more than 1500 young people.

About our programmes

The Making Strides programme operates in London and the West Midlands, working with young people who have mild to moderate learning disabilities with the aim of supporting them into sustainable paid employment.

Coaches provide long-term support to prepare young people for sustainable paid employment. Young people take part in insight visits, work placements and business mentoring to build their experience and develop skills and capabilities. We also work closely with parents to engage them in the opportunities and benefits of the programme.

About our programmes

The FutureMe programme provides five years of personalised coaching and employability activities to get young people ready for the world of work. Coaches build trusted relationships, empowering young people to take control, find solutions to challenges, develop skills and create a positive vision for their future.

Specialised ready for work activities support young people to get familiar with the workplace, become inspired and identify a pathway to their chosen career. We run this programme in 15 schools in North and East London, Nottingham and Kent.

About our programmes

The Future Leaders programme works with young black men and women in Year 10 that are at risk of exclusion or have been excluded from mainstream school.

In London, young black students are more likely to be excluded from school than white British students and young black men experience high unemployment rates.

To tackle these issues, Future Leaders supports black students in alternative provisions and schools to make a successful transition into a post-16 destination, overcome the barriers they may face such as a lack of networks, social capital and soft skills, and prepare them to be ready to find a fulfilling career.

About the Role

We are seeking an enthusiastic freelance Progression Coach with energy, knowledge, and employability experience to join our established team and enhance our ability to support more young adults with Learning Disabilities and/or Autism in achieving employment and training opportunities.

The role will be community based in locations around Birmingham so our ideal candidate will be familiar with the region and comfortable with a degree of autonomy. In the first instance, the role is available for a three-month period.

If this sounds like your kind of role, we want to hear from you!
