High Trees strives to ensure our services remain firmly rooted in the local community, responsive to and driven by local need and always delivered in the spirit of partnership and collaboration.

VCS (VOLUNTARY & COMMUNITY SECTOR) INFRASTRUCTURE & DEVELOPMENT MANAGER

Salary	£40,000 - £45,600
Hours	Full-time (35 hours per week)
Location	High Trees, 220 Upper Tulse Hill, London SW2 2NS This role requires regular on-site and community/partner-based working.
Reporting to	Head of Community Action

ABOUT THE SERVICE AND THIS ROLE

This is a new role at High Trees, created because we believe Lambeth's voluntary and community sector (VCS) is one of the borough's greatest assets - strong, skilled and rooted in the communities it serves. Place-based organisations like ours play a vital role in supporting individuals, strengthening communities, growing local economies and shaping the policy decisions that affect the people we work with. We want a dedicated Manager who can help make that case, loudly and effectively, both within High Trees and across the wider system.

A key part of this role is our contract to deliver capacity building support to Lambeth's VCS, commissioned by the local authority and delivered through the Lambeth Hubs Partnership - but this is one strand of a much bigger picture. We want this role to think beyond any single contract, taking a long-term view of what Lambeth's VCS infrastructure support needs to look like, and leading the development of new approaches, including peer support models and a more circular economy across the sector.

Health and wellbeing is increasingly shaping where funding and investment in our sector flows, and we want Lambeth's VCS to be ready and well-positioned to respond to this shift. You will play a leading role in this, working with partners including the SEL VCS Alliance to develop shared practice across South East London boroughs, and ensuring our sector's voice is heard as these opportunities develop.

This role is as much strategic as it is operational - we're never too far from the ground at High Trees, and you'll be expected to lead on much of the day-to-day delivery yourself. That means designing and delivering workshops and one-to-one capacity building support, developing resources and toolkits, and running networking events that bring Lambeth's VCS together. You'll also build a network of trusted delivery partners - freelancers and facilitators, ideally drawn from within our own sector - helping to keep skills, income and opportunity circulating within Lambeth's VCS.

We're looking for someone who can operate confidently at both levels: comfortable managing a funded contract and building strategic relationships with funders, commissioners and system partners, while equally happy rolling up their sleeves to deliver training, support a small organisation one-to-one or facilitate a room full of people. You'll bring real experience of the VCS sector, genuine belief in what place-based organisations can achieve, and the confidence to be an advocate both for High Trees and for Lambeth's VCS as a whole.

JOB DESCRIPTION

As VCS Infrastructure & Development Manager, you will lead High Trees' work to strengthen Lambeth's voluntary and community sector, acting as an advocate for High Trees and a champion for the wider sector, while managing funded contracts and programmes that support local organisations to grow their skills, systems and impact.

The role combines strategic leadership - shaping High Trees' contribution to the future of VCS infrastructure support, and representing the sector within key partnerships - with hands-on operational delivery, including direct capacity building support, training and events. You will be confident managing multiple work streams, and equally comfortable working strategically and on the ground.

KEY ACCOUNTABILITIES

- Manage High Trees' Lambeth VCS capacity building contract, delivered through the Lambeth Hubs Partnership, ensuring delivery against agreed KPIs, targets, budgets and reporting requirements.
- Play an active role in the Lambeth Hubs Partnership and the SEL VCS Alliance to ensure Lambeth's VCS sector is ready to respond to the growing role of health and wellbeing in shaping funding and investment into the sector.
- Design and deliver workshops, one-to-one capacity building support and other direct development support to community organisations, covering areas such as governance, finance procedures, safeguarding, volunteer management, data protection or the effective running of community buildings.
- Develop high-quality learning resources, toolkits and training for the local VCS sector, and organise networking events that connect and strengthen the sector.
- Build and manage a network of trusted freelancers and facilitators - ideally drawn from within the VCS sector - to support delivery of High Trees' capacity building offer.
- Support the capacity building functions of key High Trees partnerships, including the Lambeth Community Research Network and Building Young Brixton.
- Support the management of small grants programmes across High Trees' capacity building work.
- Act as an advocate for High Trees and a champion for Lambeth's voluntary and community sector, building its profile and influence with funders, commissioners and system partners.
- Manage project budgets, ensuring effective financial controls and value for money.
- Provide line management and support to capacity building staff and/or freelancers as required.
- Monitor and evaluate capacity building activity, producing regular reports for funders, management and the Board as required.
- Contribute to organisational strategy and cross-service working as part of the wider team.
